MDAA Frankenmuth Seminar
Bavarian Inn Lodge, Frankenmuth, Michigan
Saturday, March 21, 2015 (6) CEUs Available
Registration begins at 8:30 am, morning coffee and lunch included in fee

Joe Alamat, DDS, MD
9:00 AM to Noon (3) CEUs
"Vitamins, Supplements, Probiotics and Their Role in Den-

Presenter Information:
Dr. Alamat received his DDS from University of Detroit Mercy and his MD from Wayne State University. He completed his training in Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery at Sinai Grace Hospital.

He has also earned advanced fellowship in Integrative, Functional and Anti-Aging Medicine, and is enrolled in a Master's Degree program through the University of South Florida School of Medicine in Nutritional and Metabolic Medicine.

Dr. Alamat practices the full scope of his specialty at Summit Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery.

Course Overview:
Do you ever wonder as you wander through the grocery aisles and you come up to the vitamins and supplements and wonder, Should I be taking something?

Do you listen to Dr. Oz and The Doctors show? Do you also read health magazines and in the end you find yourself totally confused?

This course will separate the truth from the hype. You will learn exactly what your body needs, and what supplements to use.

Learn to not throw away money on useless supplements and only focus on the ones you should have.

Linda Gadioli
1:00 to 4:00 PM (3) CEUs
OSHA Update for 2015

Presenter Information:
Linda has been teaching CPR and First Aid for nine years and has enjoyed every single class. She added OSHA certification in 2006 when she discovered most dental offices were not going over the OSHA procedures with their staff each year. She is certified through American Safety and Health Institute and American Heart Association. She makes her classes fun by using tricks to remember the necessary life saving facts. She can give credit for CPR and OSHA through the Academy of General Dentistry which is a plus for the dental team. Her classes are stress-free, fun filled but most importantly fact filled. Linda was a legal secretary for 35 years before switching from legal to medical. The one thing she has found - dental offices are definitely a lot more interesting and fun than attorneys!

Course Overview:
- New Hazard Communication Standard
- Globally Harmonized System of labeling and classifying chemicals in the workplace
- No more MSDS sheets?
- Updated product labels and Safety Data Sheets
- Training of employees
- Labeling and Safety Data Sheets now use “pictograms” or symbols/Icons (GHS label)
- The use and labeling of secondary containers
- Inventory lists of all the products and chemicals in the practice.
- Storage of SDS?
